

OUR COLLECTIVE ADVANTAGE: Indigenous Consent

The 7th Annual FNMPC Conference

April 22-23, 2024
Sheraton Centre Hotel Toronto
fnmpcindustryevent.com

Seeking Volunteers

- » Are you passionate about the clean energy transition and want to explore how Indigenous consent contributes to sustainable practices?
- » Are you interested in discovering how businesses can gain a competitive edge by integrating Indigenous consent into their strategies?
- » Are you student in Indigenous studies, environmental science, business, or political science?
- » Are you part of a community or a group seeking meaningful volunteer opportunities?
- » Want to be part of a movement that values equity and Indigenous perspectives?

If these interests resonate with your beliefs, we invite you to join us as a volunteer at the FNMPC conference. Engage with prominent experts and likeminded peers about how the prioritization of Indigenous consent in supply chains empowers companies and nations with a distinct advantage that can shape a future characterized by financial resilience and environmental sustainability.

Join us on April 22-23, 2024, in Toronto, where we'll demonstrate how this collective advantage harmonizes with a shared journey towards success.

Secure Your Spot as a Volunteer Today!

Be recognized as part of the supporting efforts in bringing together Indigenous leaders, government, and industry experts on defining our sustainable future

Benefits

As a volunteer at this exciting conference amongst some of the foremost experts in their fields you have:

- » Engaging Networking Opportunities: Connect with like-minded individuals including fellow volunteers, speakers, attendees, and organizers and forge valuable connections, friendships, and collaborations.
- » Access to Leading Expertise and Insights: Volunteers can access panels talks led by renowned experts in various fields. Gain insights from thought leaders, industry pioneers, and influential change-makers driving innovation and positive change.
- » Receive a customized conference volunteer T-shirt, and meals included.

Volunteering

FNMPC is seeking volunteers located in Toronto and Greater Toronto area. Volunteers are kindly requested to contribute a minimum of 6 hours of their time throughout the duration of the 3-day event. Roles include:

- » Registration desk attendant
- » Chaperone/Greeter

Volunteer shifts will take place during the following conference dates & times:

- » April 21: 3:00 pm - 8:00 pm
- » April 22: 7:00 am - 7:00 pm
- » April 23: 7:00 am - 7:00 pm

(Listed times are approximate and subject to change)

Volunteers will be required to attend a mandatory on-site orientation at Sheraton Hotel Centre Toronto on April 11, 2024, from 4:30-5:30 pm.

Join us.
Sign up as a volunteer today.

Contact Stephanie Koenig at skoenig@fnmpc.ca with the subject line "FNMPC Volunteer" or by telephone at 519-614-5212.

Applications close March 29th, 2024.